WILSON BACKED TO THE WALL DEFENSE TREATY; MAKES DIRE PREDICTION

(By Associated Press.)
BILLINGS, Mont., Sept. 11.—President Wilson declared ratification of the peace treaty was a question whether the United States would fulfill its pledges to its people and the world. He said he had come west to "consult" with the people. The human heart beats the same on both sides of the ocean, he said, and he sincerely desired there would be no more war. It was a mistake to debate the peace treaty like an ordinary treaty. It was not merely a treaty with Germany, but affecting the entire world. It is this treaty or no treaty, he said. It is this treaty because there can be no other. "This settlement is the first international settlement based on the happiness of the average people throughout the world—a people's treaty." He predicted it would not be wise for parliament or congress to attempt to alter it.

The president said the treaty was "not justly so." Some men who are calling the treaty unduly harsh were criticizing the administration a year ago because they thought the United States would be too easy with Germany. "They were pitiless then," he said. "They are pitiless now." The American dead in the war fought not for the redemption of America but for redemption of the world. One of his hardest trials during the war was that he was able merely to direct the policies of the nation and not "take a gun and go myself."

The United States must take the treaty or play a lone hand in world affairs. "If you are going to play a lone hand," he said, "the hand you play must have a weapon in it, and that weapon must be the young men of this country and the business of the country must pay the price."

The president said the basic principles of the treaty was that the territory belongs to the people living on it. It was the laborious work of many minds and has few compromises in it as it follows the American specifications generally. If it failed it would be impossible to get together again the elements necessary to make a new settlement. He cited the upheaval in Russia and asked his hearers if they had not seen the evidence that spread this unrest. It was the "dread" of every statesman in Europe, he said, and the propaganda was spreading in the United States.

"There are apostles of Lenin in our midst," he said, "and it means the apostle of darkness. Our business is to see that no minority, no matter how rich or how poor, gets control of the United States." He said he had heard that radicalism was spreading in the west and added there was only one way to beat radicalism and that is to deprive it of food. The only way to keep men from agitation is to remove their grievance.

The president read from the naval appropriation bill passed by congress during the war requesting the president to try to secure an international court to settle international disputes and accomplish disarmament. "Now that they have got it," he said, "they don't like it." He repudiated the suggestion that other nations were not acting in good faith in forming the league. He said Japan had kept all engagements.

NEW CAMP WILL BE TELLURIDE

John H. Ingram, long term commissioner for Lander county, writes L. M. Munzer, his son-in-law in Tonopah, that the recent Birch Creek strike is likely to prove one of the greatest developments of the age as there is, apparently, no limit to the mineralization which has been traced for miles. The entire country for ten miles in all directions has been staked and Tonopah men are among those who got in early so as to secure choice locations. "It is the biggest mine in Nevada," Mr. Ingram writes. "It looks like a sure winner. I have sampled and panned all over it and it beats anything I ever saw. Ed and I have a sixth interest. I have quit the Kibbourn and will go to work there on the 15th. Everybody in Austin is wild. The name of the new camp is Telluride, fourteen miles from Austin. Three or four new strikes have been made since the original and there is no telling where the work will end."

Mr. Ingram has a bond and lease on the original property which continues to bear out the first impressions that it is a whale.

POLITICAL PROPAGANDA BARRER BY CONGRESS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—So flagrant has become the practice of some of the administration officials to disseminate propaganda through government publications paid for by the public that the joint congressional committee on printing has felt it necessary to intervene. Senator Smoot, chairman of the committee, has announced that orders had been given for the discontinuance of such propaganda and that publications violating the order will be liable to summary suspension.

BOSTON BEGS NAVY TO SEND MORE TROOPS

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Governor Coolidge today wired the secretary of the navy a request that naval forces be held in readiness to supply additional troops for Boston's protection in the disorders resulting from the police strike. Six regiments of state troops are under arms and the governor has mobilized all forces at his command. Five are reported dead so far in the riots. There is a possibility that a general strike will develop. A sympathetic strike vote has been ordered for Boston unions tonight.

The governor took over the situation this afternoon. It is announced from Washington that the war department is ready to meet the request for federal troops. After a discussion with labor leaders, Mayor Peters said those present expressed a desire to avert a general strike.

TWO MEN ONLY AMONG MISSING

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Every American soldier who became a "casualty" in the war against Germany at last has been accounted for. A list of missing and unaccounted for, which at one time was as high as 25,965, gradually was reduced until for weeks it remained at two. It is now presumed there is no doubt the two soldiers are dead and they have been so listed officially.

Of the total first reported missing, 23 per cent died; 16 per cent were found to be prisoners; 25 per cent were lost from their organizations in the confusion of battle but subsequently rejoined them. The remainder were found scattered through various hospitals.

(By Associated Press.)

VETERAN MINER GOES TO REST

Marko Boyovich, aged 52 years, a native of Montenegro, died early this morning at his residence, 611 Central street, of miners' consumption. He came to Tonopah in 1905 and worked in the mines until 1912 when he went to Europe to fight in the Balkan war and remained there until October, 1913, when he returned to Tonopah and again took up mining.

Two brothers were killed in the recent war with the Germans. A wife and one brother in Tonopah as well as his father in Montenegro survive him. He was a member of the Serbian Young Men's society and the Loyal Order of Moose. Funeral will take place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from the residence. Interment in the local cemetery.

Director General Hines is doing for the railroad situation what Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle did to the radical socialist movement.

Senate Minority Report Is In Line With Wilson

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Rejection of the peace treaty with the League of Nations covenant or the adoption of amendments would mean the sacrifice by the United States of all concessions obtained from Germany under the dictated peace, the minority members of the foreign relations committee declared today in a report to the senate.

The report, prepared by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking democratic member of the committee, urged ratification speedily without amendments or reservations and deplored the "long unnecessary delay to which the treaty was subjected while locked up in the committee whose recommendations were a foregone conclusion."

Hitchcock asserted that the recommendations could have been made in July.

Senator Shields, a democrat of Tennessee, did not sign the report, having announced that he favored the league covenant reservations prepared by Chairman Lodge. Those signing the report, in addition to Hitchcock, were Williams of Mississippi, Swanson of Virginia, Pomernoy of Ohio, Smith of Arizona and Burman of Nevada, all democrats.

The minority denied the claim in the Lodge report, that the peace conference was still in session and his power to bring the German representatives to Paris. He asserted that such power of compulsion has been exhausted if the amended treaty is not signed by Germany and, says the report, then it is in none of its parts binding on her. The proposed reservations were for the "purpose of destroying the league" the minority believes.

OPPOSITION TO TREATY MAKES NEW CONVERTS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Administration hopes that President Wilson's middle western speeches would swing wavering senators into line for the peace treaty, received a severe jolt when Senator Spencer of Missouri abruptly quit being a mild reservationist and told the senate the league covenant as drafted in Paris ought to be rejected.

Whether Senator Spencer's vigorous speech was the result or a coincidence of the president's two addresses in Missouri was not made clear, but the senator told his colleagues within the last few days he was convinced his constituents were overwhelmingly opposed to the covenant, at least as the president presented to the senate.

Survey of the situation in the senate today revealed the fact that the president's western speeches have done nothing but solidify and intensify the opposition to the treaty. His speech at Columbus did not convert Senator Harding, Ohio, and even Senator Pomeroy, democrat, of that state, admitted today it might be necessary to choose between reservations and defeat of the treaty.

FOURTEEN DOLLARS FOR HOGS ON HOOF

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The principal basis of the cost of meat was shown today to have been reduced more than $1 a hundredweight in the last fortnight.

Thousands of live hogs at the Chicago stock yards went unsold yesterday, some as low as $14.25, whereas on August 28 the advent of hog prices under $16 was hailed as promising notable relief to sufferers from high cost of living. Even before this decline, the drop in hog values of late was declared to be the sharpest since 1907.

GOV. BOYLE ADDRESSES MEETINGS

When the ball park meeting was called to order this afternoon at 2 o'clock the conference committee reported that it could only report progress as the members had not concluded their discussions with the operators with whom they had an appointment for a continuation of the conference at 10 o'clock.

Governor Boyle announced that the meeting adjourned to the Airdome this evening when the committee could report and the various questions at issue be thrashed out. This suggestion did not meet with the approval of the men who had been conducting outdoor meetings and they expressed a violent dislike for the adjournment as proposed.

The governor said the proposition was returned to the operators that come were parts in which he and his staff did not think were proper. To take operators were to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon and discuss the matter again before making a final submission to the committee and, as there were many points for serious discussion, he asked the meeting to adjourn to the Airdome at 10 o'clock without taking any vote as a sign. Two meetings, he suggested, was to be limited to the indoor crowd workers.

Joseph Lord, federal mediator, followed the governor along the same line.

It was decided, finally, that none of the workers would go to the Airdome at any time. This suggestion was strenuously resisted and it was resolved that, when the committee was ready to report it bring its report to the meeting at the ball park at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Century to the statement in the morning paper, the committee made at the ball park yesterday afternoon and not meet with the operators until night. When the committee was appointed it was the program for both sides to consider and it was thought that would be the procedure in holding a peace-making as the operators previously had stated a meeting of their members from both the Tonopah and Divide districts. However, the bandits before the operators occupied their attention to such a late hour that it was impossible to see the workers' committee. When it was learned that no early adjournment could be reached the operators notified the committee, which was waiting at the Morgan hotel, that it would be better to postpone the conference until this morning at 10 o'clock. With that understanding the workers' walk away to their homes.

At the appointed hour this morning both sides were represented, together with Governor Boyle and Joseph Lord, the federal mediator, and the conference was opened by proceeding immediately to business. The session lasted until after the noon hour when adjournment was had and the committee from the ball park departed.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Hugo Altmyer, president of the Farnsworth Electrical works of this city, was instantly killed while inspecting an electric crane at the Coos Bay Lumber company's yard at the foot of Kirkham street, in Oakland. Altmyer, who was nationally known for his electrical inventions, had recently completed a contract for the construction and operation of electrical cranes for the Coos Bay Lumber company. He is believed to have gone to Oakland to make special tests for some new invention in crane operation.
